

Tevera Purchase Options

Overview

As a student, we know every dollar counts. That's why we've outlined below the options for purchasing Tevera as well as the pros and cons of each. However you choose to purchase Tevera, you will have lifetime access to your information which you will use later in your job search.

Note: All information provided here is generic and may vary by college program. Contact your program administrator for information on your program's specific options.

Purchasing options

If you are asked to pay for Tevera directly, you should be given the option to (a) purchase an access code from your university's bookstore, or (b) buy it directly with a credit card. Here are some pros and cons for buying an access code through your bookstore vs. buying it directly with a credit card:

ACCOUNT SETUP | THE BASICS

Credit Card

Purchase your Tevera membership directly from Tevera with your credit card.

Price: $195 + $8 processing fee = $203*

The base price for Tevera is $195 plus $8 processing fee for a total of $203. If your program is using the CCS-R assessment, an additional $5 fee applies, bringing your total cost to $208.

Important: You will only have to purchase Tevera once. You will have lifetime access to your Tevera academic account, regardless if you change programs or universities.

The CCS-R assessment, used by some programs, is an additional $5*

Bookstore Code

Purchase your Tevera membership from your university bookstore.

Price: Varies by bookstore*

Each university's bookstore has different pricing agreements so your Tevera membership may cost more than $195. However, if you purchase Tevera through a bookstore, it is typically eligible for financial aid.

Important: You will only have to purchase Tevera once. You will have lifetime access to your Tevera academic account, regardless if you change programs or universities.

The CCS-R assessment, used by some programs, is an additional $5*

Credit Card: Advantages	Bookstore Code: Advantages
Easy-to-purchase during the registration process	You may be able use your financial aid to purchase your Tevera access code
No additional mark-ups to price
Refunds available directly from Tevera (up to 30 days after purchase)

Credit Card: Drawbacks	Bookstore Code: Drawbacks
Non-refundable $8 credit card processing fee	More expensive- bookstores typically add an additional $20-$100 to the purchase price
You cannot use financial aid to purchase Tevera with a credit card	Tevera does not provide refunds for access codes. If you purchase a code and redeem it, you will not be refunded.*

depending on your university bookstore's return policy*

What if I don't have one of the options above?

While you should have both options to purchase Tevera, your program may have opted not to use a purchase model. Reach out to your program administrator if you are unable to purchase Tevera.

FAQ

QUESTION	ANSWER
Does Tevera offer a payment plan?	No, you must pay the full amount upon purchase.
Can I get a refund after 30 days if I've never used Tevera?	No. Refunds for credit card payments are only available 30 days after purchase.
Does Tevera offer a discount for certain groups?	No, all students are charged the same amount.
What do I do if I bought an access code from my bookstore because I didn't realize I could pay with my credit card?	Not to worry! As long as you haven't redeemed your access code yet, you should be able to return it* and then purchase Tevera directly with your credit card.
How do I purchase Tevera with my credit card or redeem my access code?	This is part of the registration process, outlined here .
I haven't received my registration link.	You should receive an invite in your school email to register for Tevera. If you did not receive the invite, check your spam folder and reach out to your program administrator. If your school is using an integration, you'll be prompted to register via a course link in your LMS (Blackboard, Moodle, etc).